

Exhibit

“HACK”-6

p1-p14 Admissions Against GOOG Interests.

This lengthy exhibit provides enough incontrovertible evidence of facts warranting summary justice. Pages 1-15 are documentation of the past requests to made to Google Inc update the hidden past cached rational for improper text-image associations used to claim unconstitutional 47 USC §230 preemption for all possible violations of the rule of communications statutory law. There were several examples of acceptable disassociation of "hidden" past cached rationals but there are scores of denials of the requests to cease these that were accompanied by advisement to just wait till the next regular update that would not be hurried by the Almighty GOOG.

p15 Evidence of GOOG not excluding the CurtisNeeley.com website.

This page printed on February 22, 2012 reveals that GOOG Almighty had not yet chosen to exclude CurtisNeeley.com from image searches despite Neeley v Namemedia Inc et al, (5:09-cv-5151) perhaps known by Google Inc counselors as "Neeley I" ending around June 6, 2011. Plaintiff is not sure if every appeal of this is counted as a sequel by Google Inc counselors or not. Plaintiff assumes these HOAXES are not considered sequels warranting numbers since no court held hearings and no court read the appeals or typed more than twenty words while denying. Neeley v Namemedia Inc et al, (5:12-cv-5074) was filed on April 4, 2012 and perhaps is now called Neeley II by opposing counselors and truly warrants being called a sequel for Namemedia Inc, - Oops. Almighty GOOG can choose what "WEB" presentations to exclude for any rational. Before "Neeley II" had begun this search result shows that CurtisNeeley.com remained indexed.

p16 Evidence of exclusion of CurtisNeeley.com website by Almighty GOOG.

This page printed on November 30, 2012 reveals that GOOG Almighty chose to exclude CurtisNeeley.com from image searches. GOOG can choose what "WEB" presentations to exclude for any rational as is a clear right. After "Neeley II" begun, this exclusion further demonstrated the EVIL nature of GOOG.

p17 Evidence of Admissions Against Interests

Page 17 of this exhibit reveal Google Inc searching a German language BLOG "WEB" presentation and finding images that were NOT placed by the Plaintiff but that returned due to the file names use of "curtis neeley"

p18 and p19 admissions Against GOOG Interests

The Plaintiff contacted the German BLOG operator seen in the background of these pages and the French BLOG host of each JPG file in each countries native tongue. Plaintiff argued that this usage of "curtis neeley" violated Article 6bis of the Berne Convention. This dialog was ironic given Michael Henry Page Esq referring to France as recognizing some "droit moral" before the Magistrate on December 6, 2010. The French host of the file initially attempted to claim that the BLOG was free and United States' rite for publishing do not apply. Rather than maintain these assertions in International Courts; the German BLOG operator removed the postings and the French BLOG host deleted the files from their server. These can be seen noted as denied updating by Almighty GOOG when notified on pages 1 - 4 in this exhibit though generally reacting better than Microsoft Corporation after notified.

P20 - p22 incontrovertible evidence of GOOG bypassing 47 USC §231 compliance sought at deviantart.com

The smile closeup of the pierced "lips" like shown on pages 20 and page 21 are obscene on their face. These were not done by the Plaintiff but demonstrate the improper policy of Google Inc bypassing identity filtration done to comply with the intentions of Congress and the general public by 47 USC §231 before the Supreme Court invalidated this law to preserve indecent image access for retired judges, anonymous spinsters, and elderly Congressmen. This invalidation of law preserved the EVIL culture of United States' distant communications.

P23 - p25 incontrovertible evidence of GOOG bypassing 47 USC §231 compliance sought at deviantart.com

The indecent but not vulgar images seen on the first two of these pages are as carefully posed and lit as the "figure nude" images formerly published by the Plaintiff at deviantart.com. The third page reveals the filtration seen without using Google Inc to bypass the identity filtration. No indecency is shown to anonymous parties.
