Exhibit CNNet

This exhibit is indecent and wrong to associate with Plaintiff's name in schools and churches or in searches by minors. The Supreme Court in ACLU v Reno suggested tagging of such images but was ignored . NO USAGE OF "CURTIS NEELEY" is on the "WEB" presentation cited as the absurd and unconstitutional 47 USC §230 liability preempting source.

The absurd, and unconstitutional 47 USC §230 liability preempting source page is displayed with these images each shown but with no usage of Plaintiff's name at all. This fact clearly reflects the fact that the assertion by MSFT of not finding a "mere possibility of misconduct" is absurd and is offensive after made aware of the possibility of this wrong. Failing to act after asked to act and halt the improper association would be MUCH more than a "mere possibility of misconduct" and is WRONG!
