Curtis J Neeley Jr., MFA

v

CASE NO. 5:09-cv-05151

NameMedia Inc.
Google Inc.

SECOND REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO FILE
FOURTH AMENDED COMPLAINT

Comes now the Plaintiff, respectfully and requests the Court grant leave to file this Fourth Amended Complaint that will add numerous claims discovered or done during this swarm of related action since after January 24th 2010. This amending is supported by US Rules of CP Rule 15(a)(2) and the Plaintiff has attempted to ask each parties consent and both did not consent and stated they reserve rights to seek Rule 11 sanctions. The Fourth attempt to amend and add claims must be done to resolve this EXTREMELY complicated swarm of tortuous activity and is in the interest of justice.

Each claim alleged is supported by evidence now exhibited in the record. The Plaintiff seeks leave to enter this Fourth Amended Complaint adding claims and just one party in the same tortuous swarm of events that have occurred recently. This appeal to amend with a replacement complaint is further described concisely in the concurrently filed supporting brief. This motion is in no way frivolous and is necessary. Statutory damages alone are in the millions already and Rule 11 sanctions can be liens on the settlement if this Court feels they are warranted.

Respectfully submitted by hand,

Curtis J. Neeley Jr., MFA

CASE NO. 5:09-cv-05151

NAMEMEDIA INC

Google Inc (GOOG)

Federal Communications Commission (FCC)

COMPLAINT FOR US TITLE 15 VIOLATIONS, FRAUD, AND MALICIOUS PUBLIC DEFAMATIONS AND ALSO TITLE 17 ABUSES CALLED "FAIR USE" THAT WERE FRAUDULENT AND OUTRAGEOUS VIOLATIONS OF TITLE 18 § 1343 AND PERPETUAL REFUSAL TO REGULATE WIRE COMMUNICATIONS BY THE FCC

Comes now the Plaintiff, respectfully and states for his complaint described as concisely as the severely brain-damaged, pro se litigant is able in this extremely complicated intellectual properties case including trademarks, Title 17 Infringements and repetitive public defamations and violations of "Due Process" and "Equal Access to the Law". The tortuous actions are so numerous they prohibit concise titling or description. The severely brain injured Plaintiff is outraged by learning of the fraudulent business policies of the Defendants discovered while researching how his pre-teen daughter was exposed to Plaintiff's original photos of the figure nude as an object of art on the Internet. The Courts call this a "new medium" that is apparently exempt from even moderate regulation in an obvious error that violates the intention of the Communications Act of 1934. The particular actions can be described as follows and supported by the existing docket entries and will be further supported by witnesses and slide presentations during trial.

1 I. NAMEMEDIA INC

2 Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC Initial Title 15 § 1125(d) offense

3 1. Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC violated the Plaintiff's previously registered domains
4 <eartheye.com> and <sleepspot.com> that were used in commerce with no purpose other than to sell
5 them when they expired in 2003. This was at a time when the Plaintiff was an incompetent. This 6 Lanham Act violation was repeated yearly and the Supreme Court ruled on May 24, 2010 that when 7 torts continue to occur or one is repeated, the cause of action accrues from the last date of occurrence.
9 This tolled the trademark and Title 17 violations of Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC due to the yearly
10 renewals of each domain until the early 2009 offer to the Plaintiff to encourage bidding on the 11 expiring domain. When the Plaintiff was unable to pay the several thousand they sought, the 12 Defendant advertised selling it for $2,300 and at the same time accrued a $100,000 statutory liability.
14 The Plaintiff had advised NAMEMEDIA INC that <eartheye.com> was originally his and they 15 ignored the Plaintiff outrageously and chose to sell the domain after having been advised and first 16 involving legal Council of Erik Zilinek who dared the Plaintiff to attempt DNRP action. Ted Olson
17 alleged being contacted by the Plaintiff by telephone on some indeterminate date dishonestly before
18 discussing the domain <eartheye.com> via email on Nov 29, 2007. Defendant NAMEMEDIA
19 contacted the Plaintiff again on Jan 26, 2009 and Feb 13, 2009, and this lawsuit was started July 14, 20 2009. Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC violated <eartheye.com> and <sleepspot.com> annually when 21 renewing the registrations rather than letting them expire and cease to resolve.
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 Original Artwork Theft in violation of US Title 17

2. Plaintiff previously was trained in commercial photography and <eartheye.com> was the 3 website used for his art. Plaintiff continued to do art photography as well as commercial photography
4 and created a user profile at <photo.net> and uploaded some art while an incompetent or before
5 recovering guardianship on January 26, 2006. The Plaintiff was never aware of the ownership of 6 <photo.net>. Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC purchased <photo.net> in 2007. Defendant
7 NAMEMEDIA stopped allowing users of the site to delete art and began to claim perpetual licensure
8 to all user content. NAMEMEDIA INC alleged photos could be deleted but the Plaintiff soon
9 discovered that was false and the Plaintiff began posting photos elsewhere. On a forum posting on 10 July 12, 2009, the Plaintiff posted that the new site owners would face him in Court and Mr Neeley
11 wished for them to delete his art. About July 24, 2009 Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC deleted
12 Plaintiff's access to <photo.net> and yet continued preventing deletion of his user art, which was 13 continually demanded.

16 Second US Title 15 § 1125(d) violation

17. NAMEMEDIA INC offered <sleepspot.com> to the Plaintiff after this litigation had begun
18 for $2788 as can be seen in Docket 25 Ex #2 2788 and tolled limitations as well as establishing a 19 $100,000 statutory liability.

21 Destruction of Original <SleepSpot.com> Art

22. NAMEMEDIA INC used the robots.txt protocol to cause <sleepspot.com> artwork to be 23 destroyed after realizing this suit was planned around July 24, 2009. NAMEMEDIA INC was made
24 aware of Plaintiff desiring this evidence in Docket 12 ¶ #3 addressing the November 16, 2009 filing
25 of Docket 10. NAMEMEDIA INC maliciously opposed Docket 160 only 150 docket filings later 26 after nearly a year.

1 Six NAMEMEDIA INC Malicious US Title 17 Violations or Defamations

2 5. Hannah Thiem, the “Digital Millennium Copyrite Agent” (DMCA) of Defendant
3 NAMEMEDIA INC, was notified and ignored the Plaintiff but was relying on the Plaintiff’s
4 disability and paralysis to make mailing notices nearly impossible. The Plaintiff notified
5 Ms Thiem using an IP beacon to confirm delivery as well as using MySpace and Flickr social 6 websites. The Plaintiff also signed up as a new user at <photo.net> and posted comments on the 7 photographs requested deleted where a period was actually an IP beacon. Many of these image
8 displays were then tracked, as evidence will show during the jury TRIAL.

10 6. The Plaintiff had demanded that the art be removed repeatedly because it was art of the nude 11 figure. The Plaintiff became aware that it was displayed to minors and was very likely to have 12 caused his minor child’s outrageous communication of December 26, 2008. The Plaintiff’s severe
13 traumatic brain injury, which once left him incompetent, is permanent. Curtis J Neeley Jr does not 14 remember a daughter living with him prior to injury. Despite this fact, the Plaintiff loves her and 15 sought diligently to be the best absent parent possible.

17 7. Curtis J Neeley Jr, MFA, believes that no minor, no atheist, and no practicing Muslim should 18 be exposed to his figurenude art. Shortly after this lawsuit was entered, the Plaintiff realized that 19 Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC and Defendant Google Inc operated the image search on <photo.net>
20 that attributed nude photographs to Plaintiff by name and displayed them to minors or any 21 anonymous visitor while alleging plaintiff’s permission. This lawsuit was served on Defendant
22 NAMEMEDIA INC but the attribution and display of nude art continued after the DMCA agent
23 listed as Hannah Thiem had viewed the notice and she and/or NAMEMEDIA INC chose to ignore it.
24
26
27
28

1 8. In January 2010, the Plaintiff discovered a new DMCA agent was listed for Defendant
2 NAMEMEDIA INC. Plaintiff set out to repeat his monitored notification to get the images deleted
3 expeditiously. Plaintiff researched the DMCA agent by wire and determined that the posted address
4 was where Robb Rosell operated a website design business. Plaintiff contacted all disclosed clients
5 of the DMCA and asked that they relay the notice regarding nude art being displayed against 6 Plaintiff's wishes while allegedly being shown to minors by specific permission. Defendant
7 NAMEMEDIA INC then finally deleted the pornographic photos and ceased attributing Plaintiff with 8 "pornographic" art around January 24, 2010 as a result of the second DMCA notice. Plaintiff then
9 stopped USING <namemedia.com> as a protest site since <photo.net> deleted the images Plaintiff
10 USED <namemedia.com> to protest.
11
13
14

15 II. Google Inc

16 Defendant Google Inc repetitive US Title 15 § 1125 (d) offenses

17 9. Defendant Google Inc began Lanham Act violations of <eartheye.com> and <sleepspot.com>
18 at some indeterminate date after the 2003 expiration of each registration. GOOG chose to license
19 these domains in AdSense for Domains and acquired $200,000 statutory liability that was also 20 reacquired annually until <eartheye.com> was sold and until repetitive notifications that 21 <sleepspot.com> was involved in TM litigation after the service of this action caused Google Inc
22 Adsense for Domain to stop unmasked USE and reverting to stealth profiting they currently still do.
23

1 Detrimental reliance on Google Inc AdWords sales to fraudulent domains

2 10. Defendant Google Inc sold advertisement to the Plaintiff in AdWords on domains it licensed
3 exclusively for Google Inc AdSense for Domains and did not disclose the ads were run on deceptive
4 domains they were exclusively using for ads. This was a scheme to defraud and caused detrimental 5 reliance. “AdSense for Domains” is a fraudulent business policy and Google Inc uses “AdSense for 6 Domains” for scores of millions of dollars unjust enrichment each year.

8 Google Inc Defamation while claiming authorization during litigation

9 11. Defendant Google Inc attributed Plaintiff’s ‘figurenude’ images correctly with no concern for 10 US Title 17 violations or defamation continually on <google.com> and on <photo.net> until 11 Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC deleted the ‘figurenude’ images after the second DMCA agent, Robb
12 Rossel, caused deletion on or after January 24, 2010 but not until then.
13

14 12. Defendant Google Inc attributes the Plaintiff to pornographic art by image searches of his 15 personal name from various websites where the Plaintiff had disclosed his art creation by choice and 16 from images Plaintiff never had on his website as described more fully later. Google Inc allowed and 17 now allows anonymous viewership of anything to support profits.
18

19 Eric Schmidt CNBC Rejection of Privacy and US Title 17

20 13. Eric Schmidt states in an interview with CNBC that if a person has anything they do not want 21 anyone to know about, they had best not do it. Eric Schmidt is the Earth’s wealthiest human in 22 history due to inventing a way to disguise pornography as free speech.
23
25
26
27
28

1 14. Mr Schmidt is the CEO of Defendant Google Inc and the Plaintiff would like to hear
2 Mr Schmidt explain how what he calls “free speech” protects Google Inc pornography distribution
3 and describe why Google Inc is a bit player in China where porn is not allowed, Plaintiff wishes
4 Mr Schmidt to explain to the jury how his company’s profits would be affected if indecency was 5 prevented on wire communications in the United States as the law already requires and how much his 6 company donates to politicians and judges to ensure the Internet is exempt from FCC regulation. The 7 Plaintiff would also like to hear Mr Schmidt explain for the jury how Google Inc justifies returning
8 nude images when “Curtis Neeley” is entered in image searches when competitors like Lycos Inc,
9 Yahoo Inc, and Microsoft Corporation and IAC/InterActiveCorp have all chosen not to since this 10 litigation began except for Lycos Inc from a country with moral copyrights..
11

12 15. The Plaintiff will show the jury how Yahoo Inc, Microsoft Corporation, and 13 IAC/InterActiveCorp have almost ceased returning nudes for image searches of the Plaintiff’s
14 personal name during this litigation when made aware it disturbed the Plaintiff and asks how Google
15 Inc could dare to say that ceasing to return nudes for searches for “Curtis Neeley” would require
16 shutting down Google.com. See Docket 73 Ex #2 Yahoo, #4Bing and perform wire searches now
17 and compare.
18

19 Google Inc re-publication of nude art scanned from a library

20 21. After this lawsuit was filed and after Google Inc had filed an answer claiming the affirmative
22 defense of failure of the Plaintiff to mitigate damages on March 2010, Google Inc continued to 23 expand their defamatory actions after Plaintiff’s request to Amend on March 17th, 2010 where in 24 Docket #111 # 1 Exhibit (Third Amended Complaint) in the Conclusion/Prayer section ¶ #2 on p. 18
25 the Plaintiff stated as follows.
26

27

28

1 “Plaintiff is an overlooked, outraged artist not part of the class in New York because his original photographic
2 art is published in a book that was already seen at <Books.Google.com> and has a registered copyright from 2006 titled “The Renascent Vol. 3 Photography”.

3 Plaintiff prepared an exhibit but forgot to include it. The omitted exhibit reveals only that, “No
4 preview is available”, and had the wrong author listed. It revealed the distress of the Plaintiff as 5 follows.

6 *Is this book scanned by Google already? My nude photography is in this book and I already sued Google
7 for violating my copyrights and common law TMs. They say that if it is already copyrighted they will pay $60 for violating the copyrights? I want 60 billion instead.*

8 17. The posted review above was deleted when Google decided to expand their defamation and 9 this action causes outrage as well as demonstrating intentionally increasing their exposure and 10 thereby showing disrespect for Court. Plaintiff has often shown poor attitudes since this action
11 started but defaming an artists again while facing him in Federal Court for defamation is an 12 admission of not considering this US Court Action sincerely enough to mitigate the damages created 13 and the opposing Counsel actually commented on the posted comment demonstrating being aware of 14 this posting in the record.
15

16 See Docket 135 Ex. 1 Google-Oops <curtisneeley.com/NameMedia/Google-Oops.pdf>
17 See Docket 135 Ex. 2 Google-Oops2 <curtisneeley.com/NameMedia/Google-Oops2.pdf>

18 18. Defendant Google Inc uses their “Curtis Neeley” broadcast using the Plaintiff’s personal 19 name, which is shared by his father, and results in repetitive “attribution” to pornographic images in 20 a manner that is outrageous defamation. Neither the Plaintiff, nor his father, condones broadcasting 21 pornography to an anonymous viewer who refuses to take responsibility for the viewership of 22 pornography. Neither would allow their children or grandchildren to view nudity presented by 23 Google Inc using the personal name only.
24

1 The Google Inc 2010 defamation during litigation

2 19. Google Inc Books after March 7, 2010 and attributed Plaintiff correctly to three original
3 ‘figurenude’ art photographs shown to anonymous users including minors, atheists, and Muslims as 4 is offensive and shames the Plaintiff and violates rights to privacy. The Plaintiff granted Joseph
5 Morse permission electronically to place his photos in a book, which Mr Morse then did. Courts have 6 ruled that publication of a book online requires a new authorization and the Google Inc fair-use
7 argument has already been rejected by NYSD Courts.

9 Continual Google Inc untruthful attribution and defamation

10 20. Google Inc caused Michael Peven’s erect penis photograph created by Mr Peven in 1979 to 11 appear in a “strictly safe” image search for Mr Neeley’s personal name. This continued after 12 Google Inc outrageously claimed failure to mitigate damages by the Plaintiff as an affirmative
13 defense. The erect penis photo has NEVER been on <curtisneeley.com> and the claim that it was 14 shown there is both malicious, slanderous, and defamation that continued after numerous direct
15 requests to Counsel and DEMANDS that this libelous fraud cease. The German Supreme Court
16 recently allowed Google Inc to display thumbnails due to an implied permission and voluntary use of 17 the robots exclusion protocol to control indexing. In the United States, this claim is a felony wire
18 fraud prohibited by US Title 18 § 1343.

21 21. This German ruling will not protect Google Inc in this litigation because the penis photo was 22 never on <curtisneeley.com> or anywhere else posted by the Plaintiff as continually claimed.
23 Outrage is an unpopular tort and Michael Peven’s erect penis photo resulting in image searches for 24 “Curtis Neeley” using even the “strict safe” settings are slanderous and defamatory in addition to 25 being outrageous.

1 22 Michael Peven's erect penis photo result has been displayed very often, as evidence will 2 show. The pornographic erect penis photo caused the public docket of (10-2255) to be locked from 3 the public as well as instigating admonishment of the Plaintiff by the Court. Michael Peven's erect
4 1979 penis photo was attributed to <curtisneeley.com> and is falsely attributed by "Curtis Neeley"
5 searches continually and adds to defamation and outrage especially since the page causing the erect 6 Michael Peven penis photo has always expressed detesting the photo and never included it as will be 7 presented in evidence. There is an specific condemnation of the erect penis photo as well as 8 condemnation of Michael Peven and does not in any stretch of semantics imply permission to display
9 Michael Peven's penis thumbnails or full size images.
10

12 III. Federal Communications Commission
13 Federal Communications Commission Nonfeasance

14 The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulated wire communications when they were 15 the only way to deliver communications across the ocean. When wire communications as described 16 in the Communications Act of 1934 evolved to be a worldwide apparatus connected to either end of 17 the wire the FCC abandoned regulation of content by wire. The FCC reports not regulating wire as is 18 obvious by looking at the record and comparing this to CBS v FCC, (06-3575) and attempting to 19 understand how the nude images of the Plaintiff are transmitted by wire and how searching for 20 Teri Weigel by wire results in transmissions by wire of explicit pornography if you are a child you
21 must lie and be unsupervised or only search for "Curtis Neeley" at <google.com>

Prayer for punitive, compensatory, 2 and for injunctive relief 3

4 23. Whereas the Plaintiff has faced a tortuous swarm of activity, Plaintiff asks for Court ordered 5 relief as follows to mitigate damages due to distress and to compensate for the distress as well as 6 establishing preliminary injunctions to prevent the actions from recurring or continuing. In the 7 interest of punishing the Defendants who all acted maliciously or recklessly when causing the 8 damages, Plaintiff asks a Jury to establish a truly punitive award that could amount to hundreds of 9 billions.
10

11 24. The Plaintiff seeks creation of a nonprofit Search Engine Alternative that does not violate US
12 Title 17 after revised to acknowledge the Rights to Attribution and uses its income to offset taxes and 13 is controlled by an elected board with board members representing the States based on population.
14 Plaintiff asks that the jury assist in establishing a just compensation beyond his traumatic brain
15 injured mind's abilities to imagine since a JURY award is not subject to being set aside or reduced
16 for violating Due Process, as will be claimed.
17

18 25. Defendant NAMEMEDIA INC who instigated this action and who acted very maliciously
19 should face no less than 200,000 in statutory Lanham Act awards and no less than a fifteen million
20 dollar punitive award per domain violated. For the defamations by image attribution they instigated
21 NAMEMEDIA INC should face a punitive award of not less than 150 million dollars and award of 22 sleepspot.com as well as 1,000,000 for the malicious destruction of the sleepspot.com artwork and 23 rights to the domain <photo.net> that was initially used to defame the Plaintiff.
25
26
27
28

1 26. Defendant Google Inc should face an enormous punitive award for a business policy of
2 selling display of advertisements on “parked” or fraudulent sites licensed exclusively for Google
3 AdSense for Domain. Compensatory awards for the damages would be insignificant for this Plaintiff
4 alone but should be punitive as determined by a jury based on ill-gotten gains.

5 27. Defendant Google has a business policy of violating the fundamental exclusive right to 6 attribution and do this to profitably traffic in pornography by search engine broadcasts since the FCC
7 is nonfeasant and allow this where other countries do not. Google Inc should face an injunction to 8 return no nudes for any image search containing the name of the Plaintiff plus no less than 10 billion 9 dollars for a punitive award considering their maliciously expanding defamations during this lawsuit.

10 28. <Google.com> should be ordered to not return results not allowed returned by <lycos.com>
11 for all uses of the Plaintiff's personal name as a preemptive injunctive order made unquestionably 12 necessary during this litigation and maturing to become permanent.

13 29. Punitive damages should be set by a JURY in light of profits due to this policy while 14 recognizing that each Defendant will claim the award violates Due Process.

15 Half of the award will be paid in taxes. This will result in the Seventh Amendment finally applying
16 to the States and the unnamed class is every US taxpayer parent or person opposed to porn trafficking
17 and indirectly every person on planet Earth where wire communication disguised as the Internet now 18 exist unregulated.

19 30. Google Inc should be subject to punitive damages of three billion or an amount the JURY
20 deems adequate for Google Inc digitally re-publishing Plaintiff's original nude photographs from
21 “Renaissance Vol 3 | Photography” after this action had started and acknowledging Plaintiffs distress
22 but maliciously ignoring it.

Title 18 Rational for the PRAYER to a JURY

31. Only a JURY trial has the solid constitutional footing to require enforcement of laws and 3 punish criminal wire-fraud violations as have been done to Curtis J Neeley Jr., MFA in this 4 EXTREMELY complicated but closely related swarm of torts. Application of the Rule of Law is 5 either logical or incorrect as should now be obvious. No company; Regardless of how profitable, has 6 the right to run roughshod over any citizen's rights. EXXON suffered the largest punitive award in 7 history and they were still the most profitable company on Earth in 2009. The Valdez oil tanker was 8 an accident and this action was intentional and was criminal use of serial felony wire communications
9 described in Title 18 § 1343 and the Plaintiff seeks a punitive damages award that will be the largest 10 in history halting Google Inc from profiting on wire communications until they can do it without 11 pornography and without violating any citizens rights. The taxes paid on this award are a 12 commission that will be paid to every taxpayer and should affect the US budget.
